

Is innovation increasing competition in retail payments?

12:30-14:30 | 2 December 2019 | CEPS, Place du Congrès 1, 1000 Brussels

The retail payments sector is growing and changing due to ecommerce and new payment offerings such as in-app payments and other mobile offerings. During this CEPS-ECRI lunchtime meeting the impact of those innovations on the retail payment sector will be discussed. Senior practitioners, high-level officials and corporate representatives will focus on issues like whether digitalisation and new legislations are increasing the competition and support for innovation in the retail payments markets? Is there a need for changes in the existing legislation?

Sponsored by Mastercard

AGENDA (DRAFT)

12:30-13:15	Registration and lunch
13:15-13:20	Opening remarks
13:20-14:30	Panel discussion <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• René Plank, Deputy Head of Unit Antitrust Payment Systems, DG Competition</li><li>• Helen Jenkins, Managing Partner, Oxera Consulting</li><li>• Thierry Huque, Chief Technology Officer, Bancontact Payconiq</li><li>• Jeff Newman, General counsel, Euronet Worldwide</li></ul>
	Moderator: Karel Lannoo, CEO of CEPS and General Manager of ECRI
14:30	End of the event